Court Rules
GP Must Pay
Sales Tax

LITTLE ROCK (UPI) — The Arkansas Supreme Court today affirmed a ruling by the Pulaski County Chancery Court that the $2,686 sales tax assessed against the Georgia-Pacific Corp. for materials withdrawn from stock and used by its Crossett facility was valid.

It reversed, however, part of the ruling that an assessment of the $1,359 in the use tax on pallets brought from Oregon and used in the same office was valid.

Justice Lyle Brown said the state sales tax provided materials withdrawn from stock and used were taxable. He said, however, the use tax law — on goods bought out of state and brought into Arkansas — has no such provision.

Justices John A. Fogleman and Conley Byrd dissented.
They said there could be no sales tax where there was no sale and both tax assessments should be reversed.

The court also reversed a decision by the Sebastian County
Chancery Court that Mrs. Ruby
C. Lynch was entitled to a teaching contract for the 1965-66 school years.

Mrs. Lynch had asked for a leave of absence while sick, but failed to comply with requirement as an active teacher.

The chancery court held she was entitled to her contract because the school board did not give her a 10 day notice it would not renew her contract.

Chief Justice Carleton Harris said her failure to comply with regulations on reinstatement was fatal to her cause.

The supreme court reversed
the Van Buren Circuit Court decision that the state highway commission could return some land it took and receive repayment from the original owner.

The commission had taken less than an acre of land belonging to Ernest W. Rowley, paying him $2,000. It later sought to return a portion of it.

The circuit court upheld the commission. It said Rowley owed the commission $1,000 for the land returned.

Justice Paul Ward said the commission could sell the land but not return it to the original owner.

In another ruling the court reversed a decision by the Pulaski County Probate Court that a guardian could be appointed which U.S. fliers claimed to have shot down two of the Communist jets and said they probably got five others. The loss of one U.S. plane to MIGs also was reported.

Advocates of an intensified war against the North Vietnamese have long advocated attacking the MIG fields around of Hanoi, contending while the number of U.S. planes lost to MIGs has not been high, their presence has often reduced the efficiency of American attacks.

Strategists who opposed attacking the fields argued that the effect would merely be to drive them north of the Chinese border to fields in Red China, and the result might be a clash between U.S. and Chinese forces if attacking Red planes were pursued north of the border.

Spokesmen said there was no report of how many aircraft were hit or how many were on the fields when the attacks were made.

NPD Boasts of Membership

KIEL, Germany (AP) — The National Democratic party—NPD—described by its critics as a Nazi-style group, boasted of membership in five of West Germany's 10 state legislatures today after elections in two more states.

The NPD won 4 of the 73 seats in the Schleswig-Holstein and 4 of 100 in the Rheinland-Palatinate.
The new party won seats last November in Bavaria and Hesse and four of its members function as deputies of the Germany party minority group in Bremen.

The Christian Democratic party of Chancellor Kurt Kiesinger won 34 seats in Schleswig-Holstein and 49 in the Rhineland-Palatinate, still short of a majority although the strongest party in both states. The Socialists lost almost 4 per cent in Rhine-land-Palatinate and gained fractionally in Schleswig-Holstein.

had a guardian appointed for her for 90 days with no testi-

Chase Ends
in Death of a Man

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Law enforcement officials here today pressed their investigation into the background of a man who took his own life Saturday night as officers chased him at speeds of 100 m.p.h.

Coroner L. Gordon Holt ruled Sunday that Irven Edward Tribble Jr., 27, of North Little Rock died of a self-inflicted gunshot wound in the head.

The high speed chase occurred Saturday after officers told Tribble they wanted him to go to the police station for questioning in the slayings of four persons in Pulaski County in the past 2 1/2 months.

Tribble, an unemployed plumber, apparently shot himself moments before his car crashed into two trees about 12 miles south of here.

Sheriff Frank Mackey and Police Chief R. E. Briens said Tribble was wanted for questioning in the Feb. 9 slaying of Mrs. Willean Knight, 19, in Little Rock and the April 10 slayings of Mrs. Judith Ann Moody, 24, and her two daughters near Cabot.

Briens said that the FBI in Washington reported that bullets taken from the four bodies had been fired from the same
.22-caliber magnum pistol.

Briens said Sunday that a .22-caliber magnum recovered from Tribble's car had been sent to Washington for ballistics tests. He also said the bullet taken from Tribble's body would be sent to Washington.

Mackey said officers wanted to talk with Tribble in connection with the slayings near Cabot because his car fit the description of a car which neighbors said they saw driving up and down in front of the Moody house.

Mackey said master casts had been made of the tire tracks in the Moody yard and the tires on Tribble's car were of the same type as those cast.

MARLA DIANE JONES

The Junior and Senior PTA honored Marla Diane Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Jones, on Tuesday night, April 17.

Marla, a senior of Hope High school has a perfect school attendance record, having never missed a day in her 12 years of public school. Miss Jones started to school in 1955, attending Bod-caw Elementary. Her first and second grade teacher was Mrs.
Irba Caudle. Miss Mattie Atkinson was her third grade teacher.

Bodcaw lost Marla to Garland Elementary of the Hope School system when her father was transferred in 1958. At Garland, Marla enjoyed having as her teachers, Mrs. Jess Davis, Miss Kathleen Broach and Mrs.
Thomas Hayes, Sr.

During her Junior and Senior high school years, Marla has been most active and energetic, naming among her accomplishments a 3.07 grade average. She was a member of the Bobettes, until elected cheerleader for her junior and senior year. A Future Teacher of America, she was tapped as one of the top 16, a member of the National Honor Society. She is Secretary of her Senior Class, and is named one of the honor graduates.

The program honoring Marla was a complete surprise, when she was called to the meeting where teachers, school friends, her parents and Mrs. Grady Cathy, principal of Hope Schools, and Superintendent Jimmy Jones all presented a "This Is Your School Days" type program. Mrs.
Dean Murphy, retiring vice-president of Junior and Senior High PTA presented a plaque of Special Recognition on behalf of the entire PTA.

Miss Jones enters the University of Arkansas this fall with plans to continue her record of perfect school attendance.

President in Germany for Funeral Plans a Series of Meetings

By RICHARD K. O'MALLEY
BONN, Germany (AP) — President Johnson met with West German Chancellor Kurt
Georg Kiesinger and President Heinrich Lübke today but postponed meaningful talks on problems between their governments until after the funeral of Konrad Adenauer.

"These were pure courtesy calls," said a White House spokesman. "There were no substantive discussions."

Presumably Johnson and Kiesinger will get down to business at another meeting scheduled Wednesday, the day after Adenauer's state funeral.

Johnson expressed to Lübke and Kiesinger American sorrow and his own personal sense of loss at the death of Adenauer.

His 40-minute conversation with Lübke also ranged over German-American relations and mutual security questions which have arisen since the end of World War II. Lübke also told Johnson that during his recent Asian tour he had found understanding for the American position in Vietnam.

Johnson told the West German president that Adenauer's death was not only a loss to the German people but to the entire free world. He said he had had many exchanges of views with Adenauer and that he had profited from all of them.

Johnson also expressed respect for the German people and for their fortitude in rebuilding Germany after World War II. He said as vice president and later as president he had worked with three West German chancellors and that he appreciated the good relations between the two countries.

Johnson arrived Sunday night from Washington. His schedule today also included lunch with U.S. Ambassador George C. Mc-Ghee and top members of his staff and a call on Adenauer's family.

He also had an appointment with ex-Chancellor Ludwig Erhard, who lost his job last November after Johnson insisted on West German fulfillment of promises to buy enough arms in the United States to offset the cost of foreign exchange of maintaining U.S. troops in Germany.

Johnson and the West Germans were expected to discuss the proposed treaty to halt the spread of nuclear weapons, to which the West Germans are objecting; West German concern about expected American troop withdrawals; the prospects for the Kennedy Round of trade talks, now nearing their deadline, and West German aid to end the drain on the American gold stock.

British Prime Minister Harold Wilson is arriving tonight for the state funeral, and President Charles de Gaulle comes in early Tuesday morning. Johnson will see both of them, but De Gaulle is due to return to Paris late in the afternoon and it appeared that any meeting between the U.S. and French presidents would be brief and confined to formalities. It is their first meeting since President John F. Kennedy's funeral in November 1963.

Adenauer's body was taken
Sunday night from the Palais Schaumburg in Bonn to lie in state in the Roman Catholic Cathedral in Cologne. After the state funeral there Tuesday, the body of the former West German chancellor will be returned by boat on the Rhine to Rhoe-ndorf, where it will be buried at a private family service in the village cemetery.

Adenauer died last Wednesday at the age of 91.

Gives Up After
32 Free Years

WELLINGTON, New Zealand
(AP) — A 60-year-old seaman who traveled halfway around the world to give himself up pleaded guilty today to having escaped from Rangipo Prison 32 years ago.

Edgar Arthur Peterson was ordered held for sentencing May 18.

He told the court he returned home to give himself up because he didn't want to spend the rest of his life in foreign countries. He had escaped in 1935, at 27, after serving less than two months of a five-year sentence for breaking and entering.

SPRING WONDERS IN BLOOM

Something wonderful happens around the time peonies and azaleas are in bloom. The peony blossom is probably the most beautiful of all spring flowers—usually snow white, pink or red. The peony becomes a living bouquet for a few days in your garden. In regions of late frost, the buds are often injured, but once you have established the plant, they bloom season after season and become more beautiful as the years pass.

Beautiful bouquets and arrangements are yours the year around from our shop. We keep the loveliest blossoms season after season, and will arrange them especially for you.

The Wedding Bells Finally Did Rang

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Wedding bells finally rang Sunday for an Arkansas GI and his bride after a two-week delay caused when he was bumped off his flight from Vietnam.

Spec. 4 Larry Lawrence, 24, of Gentry, Ark., and Miss Rita Marie Spagnuolo, 19, of Cambridge, were to have been married April 9. All the arrangements had been made, but the day before the wedding Miss Spagnuolo received a letter from Lawrence saying he had been bumped from his plane.

The reason he was taken off the flight was not revealed.

Lawrence arrived last week, and the marriage was solemnized Sunday by the Rev. Frederick Grant at St. John the Evangelist Roman Catholic Church.

Miss Spagnuolo, who had taken her two-week vacation in anticipation of the original wedding date, was given extra time off from her job at a Boston insurance firm and the couple left for a honeymoon in New Hampshire.

Lawrence, a career man in the Army Signal Corps, met his bride at a USO dance at Ft. Devens, Mass., last year. He sent her an engagement ring and a letter requesting marriage from Vietnam in February.

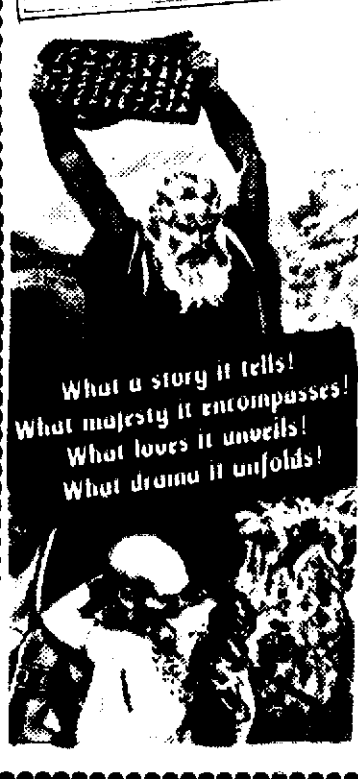

Lawrence, home on a month's leave, flies back to Vietnam May 14.

YOUTH ASKED FOR IT!

This column is for young people, their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help Us!, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush off.

Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED FOR IT, care of Helen Help Us! this newspaper.

HE PUT IN HIS TWO CENTS WORTH

Dear Helen:

My husband went into a store yesterday to purchase two five-cent stamps from a stamp machine.

He put in a dime and when he got out a five-cent stamp plus three one-cent stamps, he went wild.

He said the government is taking enough already without THIS! He started talking loud and threw the stamps on the floor and stomped out. Do you think that was immature?—TRACY

Dear Tracy:

Somewhat I think I'd like your husband, "immaturity" and all. He's a fellow injustice fighter, and I'm sorry I wasn't there to watch him put in his two cents worth.—H.

Dear Helen:

What do you think of a married man (age 19) drinking his baby daughter's milk—from her bottle yet?

It's true, I saw it myself. His wife says she can't keep the baby in milk. He even does this in front of company. I think he does it to attract attention.—D.T.

Dear D:

He's either a big baby or a show-off. Maybe his wife could break him by handing him a ruffled cap and diapers next time he tries this trick in front of company.—H.

Dear Helen:

With so much crime going on, it's advisable for women to stay off the streets after dark. Why then do these charity organizations send women out at night to do their collections? Why don't they send men? (Note from H: That's easy — men won't go!)

We all know we can't collect during the daytime because too many women work and no one is home. The few who are home have no money.

Every time a woman is attacked the newspapers are full of advice about how we should stay inside with locked doors, or at least avoid dark corners and shrubbery drive with our car doors locked, etc. They say if we don't follow these precautions, we are actually inviting rape.

Yet the charities I work for suggest that the best collection time is between 7:00 and 9:00 p.m., which most of the year means walking in the dark for a worthy cause.—SINCERELY AFRAD

Dear S.A.:

Why not collect on week-ends? You may miss a few, but it's better than taking chances with your life after dark.—H.

Dear Helen:

My husband moved my mother-in-law in to live with us without even consulting me. She is a greedy, self-important person who talks incessantly. Try to go out in the afternoons to get away from her, but she's right on my heels. She doesn't ask to go along—she expects to. She complains, criticizes, bosses, and is driving me batty.

I hope she lives to be 100 so she and her little 50-year-old "boy" can enjoy life together, as I'm about to get out! What else can I do? I tried to talk to him about her, but he flew into a mad rage. — READY TO FLY THE COOP

Dear Ready:

I doubt your husband is any happier about this situation than you are but loyalty makes him "fly into a mad rage" when you blow up. Why not sympathize with him until he sees the light and perhaps rents a nearby apartment for his mother?—H.

FRITZ WEAVER

'That's not a path that is open . . .'

By JOAN CROSBY

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Fritz Weaver, whose proven acting talent allows him to speak without any trace of sour grapes, feels the American public is too hard on American actors.

He's a bit tired of the fact that the public seems to think American actors are not so good as English actors.

Because the British are trained in the classics, they are spoken of with awe in many theatrical circles. "They have more opportunities to play classics. That's not a path that is open to most American actors or they would take it."

Weaver is one of the Americans who has been trained in classical theater. For the past 10 years he has been asked to participate in the Stratford, Conn., Shakespeare Festival.

"But that's not the 'hot' part of the theater in America. In England it is. "And to say that British actors are superior in the use of their voices is to minimize the situation. American poets talk like American cab drivers whereas the average Englishman has inflections that range over two octaves."

"I do think that American actresses are more viable than American actors. Uta Hagan, for instance, can do anything that any English actress can do with her voice and in performance."

The proof of Weaver's kind words about American performers can be sampled in a dramatic television pudding when CBS-TV telecasts Arthur Miller's powerful drama of the Salem witchcraft trials, "The Crucible." Any acting fans who have doubts about American performers will have them dispelled on May 4 when they see the work of Weaver, George C. Scott, Colleen Dewhurst, Henry Jones, Melvyn Douglas and Tuesday Weld turn in such fine performances that Miller wrote a long, long letter of praise about the show of director

Alex Segal.

So come on, Americans. let's have a Be-Kind-to-American-Actors Week.

Dennis Cole, whose ABC-TV series, The Felony Squad, is one of the few survivors of a season in which series disappeared like secretaries at 5 o'clock, is a pretty happy young man, being tall, handsome, sun-tanned and all that.

But he does have one tiny

DENNIS COLE

'Everything finally fell in place . . .'

complaint about his series. "I just keep thinking we should have more girls on the show. It's getting so Howard Duff is beginning to look pretty good to me around 8 o'clock at night."

Dennis is a young man very good at a put-on, who will occasionally make a statement, followed by "That was a lie."

But his story goes something like this, if he wasn't kidding:

"I went to California from my home in Detroit to be a musician. I started working in the business as a sideline musician. And I became engrossed in the methods of performers. So I switched to working as an extra, then as a stunt man, then a stand-in and I learned a lot. Then I went to school to learn to act and everything finally fell in place very nicely. After six years I got a job."

Yanks Fight Back and Stun Bosox

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
Success will never spoil the Boston Red Sox. Not with Elston Howard and Al Downing around to divide the job.

The New York batterymen sparked in relief roles Sunday. Howard with a decisive pinch-hit doubled and Downing with a near-perfect pitching performance — as the Yankees came from behind to stun the Red Sox 7-5.

Howard, whose two-out single in the ninth inning ruined Boston rookie Bill Rohr's no-hit bid 10 days ago, capped a five-run ahead rally in the fifth with his two-run double — the Yankees' first extra-base hit in seven games.

Downing came out of the bullpen with New York trailing 5-1 in the fourth and allowed just one hit the rest of the way for his second victory in two relief appearances — both against Boston. The little left-hander blanked the Red Sox over the final five innings in last Sunday's 18-inning marathon, won by the Yankees 7-6.

"He may be ready to put everything together," Manager Ralph Houk said of the 25-year-old strikeout artist who appears to be rebounding from two straight losing seasons. Downing fanned seven Boston hitters Sunday.

In other American League action, California moved into first place by sweeping a doubleheader from Cleveland, 9-6 in 12 innings and 2-1; Baltimore split a twin bill with Kansas City, winning the opener 5-2 before bowing 8-7; Minnesota topped Detroit 4-2 and Washington whipped Chicago 5-1.

Philadelphia swept the New York Mets 10-6 and 3-1, Los Angeles slugged St. Louis 9-3, Cincinnati downed Houston 5-3 and the Chicago Cubs tripped Pittsburgh 7-3 in National League play. Atlanta's scheduled doubleheader at San Francisco was rained out.

Boston's four-run lead over the Yankees began to disappear in the fifth when right-hander Darrell Brandon walked Tom Tresh and Mickey Mantle gave up a bases-filling single to Joe Pepitone and wild-pitched a run across.

Steve Whitaker's sacrifice fly delivered another run and when Brandon walked Charlie Smith he was replaced by Jose Santiago. Jake Gibbs' single sent the third run home before Howard, who had come through with a shutout-breaking single off Rohr in the Red Sox 6-1 victory Saturday, looped a double in to right center.

The two-base hit, which snapped an extra-base famine of 67 2-3 innings for the one-time Bombers, gave Downing a 6-5 lead. Gibbs' sacrifice fly in the eighth produced an insurance run the new relief are hardly needed.

The Angels completed their sweep at Cleveland with an unearned run in the ninth inning of the nightcap, pinch runner Marcelino Lopez scoring on third baseman Max Alvis' wild throw to the plate. Reliever Jack Kralick was charged with the loss, his second setback of the afternoon.

Kralick departed with the score tied 6-6, two on and one out in the 12th inning of the opener. Bobby Knoop, Jose Cardenal and Paul Schaaf then raked Dick Radatz for run-scoring singles. Jimmie Hall had singled home the tying run for California in the seventh.

Successive homers by the Robinson boys, Frank and Brooks, paced the Orioles to their first game victory over Kansas City. Steve Barber was the winner, with relief help from Moe Drabowsky and Stu Miller.

Pitcher Jack Aker's run-scoring single off Miller climaxed a four-run KC rally in the eighth inning of the nightcap that wiped out a 7-4 Oriole edge. Frank Robinson hit his second homer of the two bill for Baltimore.

Zollo Versailles lashed a two-run triple in the ninth, lifting the Twins past Detroit after Norm Cash's homer had pulled the Tigers even in the eighth. Walt Bond rapped a two-run pinch homer for Minnesota at the top of the eighth.

High Rated Pirates Still Can't Win

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Pittsburgh Pirates discovered that Chicago left them cold and are happily leaving town a little ahead of schedule, no doubt relieved that neither the Cubs nor the Mets appear on their schedule for a while.

In their first nine games, the Pirates, everybody's preseason favorites to win the National League pennant, have faced only New York and Chicago, the tailenders last season.

But the Mets and Cubs have combined to win five games and lose only three to Pittsburgh, Sunday's 7-3 Chicago victory being the latest in the series.

The Pirates were supposed to play the Cubs again today, but the Cub management, perhaps out of kindness, came up with possibly the earliest postponement in baseball history, calling the game in the seventh inning Sunday because of snow forecast for today.

Sunday's game was played in 37-degree weather and rookie Norm Gilson's homer accounted for three Chicago runs. The Cubs scored four unearned runs in the fourth inning, with Adolfo Phillips singling home two of them.

Elsewhere in the National League, Philadelphia won a pair from New York 10-6 and 3-1, Cincinnati took Houston 5-3, Los Angeles bombed St. Louis 9-3 and a doubleheader between Atlanta and San Francisco was rained out.

In the American League, New York beat Boston 7-5, Minnesota topped Detroit 4-2, Washington overcame Chicago 5-1, Baltimore split a doubleheader with Kansas City, winning 5-2 before losing 8-7, and California swept a pair from Cleveland, 9-6 in 12 innings and 2-1.

Donn Clendenon and Roberto Clemente hit homers for the Pirates, but Cub starter Ferguson Jenkins settled down to his second victory, striking out 10. The Pirates now move on to a series with front-running Philadelphia and St. Louis, hoping to fare better than they did against the doormats.

Rich Allen hit a pair of home runs, one in each of the Phillies' victories and Dick Ellsworth gave just seven hits to the Mets in his first appearance of the season in the nightcap. Phil Linz' two-run double in the eighth inning of the first game put the Phils ahead for good.

Milt Pappas held off the Astros, though he needed late-inning help from Ted Abernathy. The Reds got five straight hits in the first before a man was put out, Deron Johnson's single driving in two runs. Ron Davis hit a three-run homer for Houston.

Ron Fairly drove in five runs for the Dodgers with a double and the club's first homer of the season. Claude Osteen kept the Cards in tow on 10 hits, picking up his second victory in three outings. Lou Brock continued his torrid hitting pace with three hits for the Cardinals.

Fights Last Night Warriors Take 76ers Second Time

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Tom Merschery was warming up before the fifth game of the National Basketball Association championship series Sunday between the Philadelphia 76ers and the San Francisco Warriors. He spotted a big sign reading: 76ers, World Champions.

The five-year Warrior veteran exclaimed to no one in particular, "We're going to spoil their champagne party."

The Warriors, fired by the determined Merschery, rallied from a 13-point deficit in the final period to beat the 76ers 117-109 and extend the best-of-7 series to at least a sixth game in San Francisco tonight.

It was the first time the Warriors have won here since March 16, 1965.

Philadelphia led 96-84 as the final quarter began. Chet Walker, who led the Eastern champions with 25 points, converted a free throw and the Warriors trailed by 13.

It looked all over but the drinking of the champagne, then on ice in the 76ers' dressing room.

But Merschery, who had scored but six points in the first three quarters, reeled off seven straight points. Nate Thurmond, the 6-foot-11 San Francisco center, added three more and it was 97-94.

Hal Greer and Wilt Chamberlain scored for Philadelphia to make it 101-94, but Merschery hit for two baskets and Jim King added a field goal to slash the 76ers' lead to one point.

San Francisco finally tied it at 102 on a long one-hander by Rick Barry, who led the Warriors with 36 points.

Luke Jackson fouled Thurmond and Greer protested so vehemently he was tagged with a technical foul. Barry made the technical and Thurmond sank one of his two free throws to give San Francisco a lead it never relinquished.

The Warriors outscored a shaken Philadelphia team 10-4 in the final two minutes.

Hines tied the 37-year-old meet 100 record with a 9.4 and anchored a 40 flat 440 relay and 1:22.8 880 relay.

Only the world marks of 39.6 and 1:22.6 escaped Hines & Co. and they had equaled the world 440 mark a week earlier. Hines also ran a 46.9 quarter on the sprint medley team Friday. But Ryun returned for a 47.0 mile relay carry.

Another standout was Oklahoma State's Chris McCubbins, with a meet record 8:46.6 in the 3,000 meter steeplechase, 4.6 off the collegiate mark.

Ryun's 3:54.7 was one of 10 meet records set in the three-day meet. Two were tied.

Ryun's time was the 12th-fastest mile on record, but this hardly puts it in the ho-hum class. For one thing, it was the best ever so early in the season. For other, he ran alone the last half.

Ryun Going for That 3:50 Mile

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer
LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — Running marvel Jim Ryun, admitting to a case of pre-meet nerves, proved to himself Saturday he's right on schedule in his quest of a 3:50 mile by producing an intercollegiate record 3:54.7 at the 42nd Kansas Relays.

"The only reason I felt a little sick was nerves, from all the speculation about a record," Ryun said. "I didn't sleep well."

Ryun stated beforehand he had no thoughts of nearing his world mark of 3:51.3, that the race was an experiment to determine where he was in his training. But rumors about what the incredible Kansas sophomore is shooting for spring up like dandelions at every meet he competes in.

The tall, slim Sullivan Award winner will celebrate his 20th birthday at the Drake Relays Saturday by returning to double-duty relay work. He was well rested for his Glenn Cunningham mile effort.

It was perhaps a measure of Ryun's stature in track that he was an overwhelming choice for the Don Pierce Award as most outstanding athlete of a meet which produced several tremendous performances.

Jim Hines, leader of Texas Southern's group of gifted sprinters, was good enough to win the award at almost any other KU Relays. So was Fred Burton, 16-7 pole vaulter who just missed 17 feet. So was Steve Herndon of Missouri with a 7-foot high jump. Or how about Conley Brown of Rice?

All Brown did was lead Rice to a second straight triple slam in the university 440, half-mile and mile relays, climaxing with a 45.7 quarter for a meet record 3:06.6.

Hines tied the 37-year-old meet 100 record with a 9.4 and anchored a 40 flat 440 relay and 1:22.8 880 relay.

Only the world marks of 39.6 and 1:22.6 escaped Hines & Co. and they had equaled the world 440 mark a week earlier. Hines also ran a 46.9 quarter on the sprint medley team Friday. But Ryun returned for a 47.0 mile relay carry.

Yancey in Stroke Lead at Dallas

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer
DALLAS (AP) — Bert Yancey, with the idea that the most important thing in golf is to get the ball in the hole, fired a four-under-par 66 to take a one-stroke lead in the $100,000 Greater Dallas Open Tournament. Then he lectured on putting.

"A lot of players are afraid to try to be good putters," he told the press room Sunday after he had slammed into first place at 54 holes with 203-seven under par.

"They want to be known as hitters and neglect putting. I believe that since putting is the most important thing in golf, one should concentrate on that. I practice a lot."

Yancey had just toured the 6,777-yard Oak Cliff Country Club course in 26 putts and included the 25, 50, 40 and 15-yard birdie putts in his collection.

Illustrating his observation that hitting the ball wasn't as important as most folks thought, he was spraying his tee shots and irons.

That caused bogeys on the first and ninth holes when he drove into the roughs. But his sensational putting made up for it.

"I look at the back of the ball to keep my head still," he explained.

Yancey, in his fourth year on the tour and winner of three tournaments plus almost $100,000 in cash, led another ex-collegiate golfer-Kermitt Zarley, formerly of the University of Houston, going in the final round today.

Yancey, however, hasn't won a tournament this year although he led the Masters for three rounds only to wind up third.

Zarley shot a 68 for 204 at 54 holes as he and Yancey moved past Roberto DeVicenzo of Argentina and such shot-makers Velora Bright, Bob Goalby and Janice Lockett.

Helen Beavert, 155, DeVicenzo led the tournament at 36 holes with 134 but slumped to a three-over-par 73 Sunday. He fell all the way to a tie for FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The University of Arkansas has signed its first Negro athlete to a Southwest Conference letter-of-intent.

Basketball Coach Duddy Waller said Saturday he has signed Jackie Ridgle, 6-foot-3, of Altheimer Martin. Waller also announced the signing of Fred Mooney, 6-foot-2, of Jonesboro. Ridgle was named to the Class A all-state team and Mooney was selected as the outstanding player in the Class AAA tournament.

"We're real glad to get them both," said Waller. "Ridgle has an awful lot of potential. Mooney's outstanding asset is his shooting."

Waller has now signed four athletes to letters of intent. He previously signed Larry Grisham, 6-foot-6 of White Hall, and Donnie Watts, 6-foot-5 of Harrison.

Goalby had a 70 and was tied with Charley Sifford for third at 205. Nichols soared to a 77 for a 213 total and was tied for 28th place.

Sifford posted a 70 Sunday and along with Goalby is only two strokes off the pace.

Damascus Winner at the Aqueduct

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Eleanora Herrero of Puerto Rico, co-owner of Dawn Glory, considered the prospects of Damascus and Successor and decided:

"I want no part of them in the Kentucky Derby. My horse might get in the way."

"He's one whale of a horse," Herrero said of Damascus after he had scored a six-length victory in the $112,400 Wood Memorial at Aqueduct last Saturday.

"And there is another one whale of a horse down in Kentucky." That was a reference to Successor, from Mrs. H. C. Phipps' Wheatley S49p-e, who goes Thursday in the Blue Grass Stakes at Keeneland in Lexington.

Dawn glory, winner of Pimlico's Survivor Stakes, couldn't do better than third in the Wood. He was beaten nine lengths for the purse of $73,060. Gala Performance, the distant runner-up, wasn't even nominated for the Derby by owner Alfred Vanderbilt.

But despite the sparkling performance of Successor in the Wood, and the knowledge of Successor's capabilities, the starting field for the May 6 running of the Derby at Churchill Downs probably will number a dozen or more.

Outside of establishing Damascus as the strong favorite, pending Successor's showing in the Blue Grass, the weekend produced the following Derby news:

1. Trainer Hirsch Jacobs withdrew Flamingo winner Reflected Glory because of a sore left fore shin and a few hours later found himself with an unexpected Derby starter in Reason to Hail. Reason to Hail, who bowed to better-known horses in such major stakes as the Florida Derby and Gotham, won the $93,750 California Derby at Golden Gate fields by 1 1/4 lengths.

2. The Genter family and trainer Sunshine Calvert came to a decision on Florida Derby winner In Reality. He'll leave his Garden State headquarters in New Jersey the middle of this week and will get his final Derby prep in the seven furlongs of the Stepping Stone at Churchill Downs Saturday.

3. The Tartan Stable, owned by W.L. McKnight, will not be represented in the Run for the Roses. Trainer Johnny Nerud again said his ace, Dr. Fager, will not run. He had hoped the previously unbeaten but untested Brunch would make the grade. But Brunch wound up last in the 1 1/4 miles of the Wood after battling for the lead for six furlongs. The Derby is a 1 1/4-mile race.

Damascus, who was vanned back to his Laurel, Md., home Sunday, was expected to depart for Churchill Downs today. He'll be ridden by Bill Shoemaker, winner of three Kentucky Derbies, the last on Lucky Debonair in 1965.

Crossett's Salb Tops in Shot Put

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Karl Salb of Crossett, who bettered the state high school shot put record in every meet in March, has been selected as the top Arkansas amateur athlete of the month for his performance.

Salb, the nation's top high school shotputter, set the state record of 61 feet 1 1/4 inches last year. His best throw during March was 65 feet 1 3/4 inches. Salb was selected by a vote of 11 Arkansas sportswriters.

Sprinter Bobby Brown of Arkansas AM&N finished second and sprinter Leroy Thomas of Ouachita Baptist University was third in the voting. Swimmer Bill Rogers of Hendrix College and Harrison High School basketball player Donnie Watts tied for fourth.

Brown finished third in the 60-yard dash in the national AAU indoor meet and tied Bob Hayes' record of 10.3 for the 100-meter dash in the Caribbean games. Thomas clocked three 9.4's in the 100-yard dash during March.

English Golfer Wins in Kenya

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — Guy Wilstenholme of England won the Kenya Open Golf Championship Sunday with a 72-hole score of 279, four strokes better than Pete Thomson of Australia.

Miss Whitworth Leads Tourney

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Tall Kathy Whitworth fired a one-under-par 71 Sunday to win the Raleigh Ladies Invitational Golf Tourney.

Miss Whitworth, who started the final round tied with Susie Maxwell, wound up with a 54-hole total of 215. Miss Maxwell finished with 220 to take second place.

Jo Ann Prentice came in third with 221. She pulled within three shots of Miss Whitworth after the first nine but bogeyed four of the last five holes to post a 75 final round.

Canadiens Finally Lose Game

MONTREAL (AP) — Their long unbeaten string finally snapped, the Montreal Canadiens hope to bounce back against the Toronto Maple Leafs in the third game of their Stanley Cup playoff series Tuesday at Toronto.

The final, best-of-7 series was tied at 1-1 Saturday when goalie Johnny Bower blanked the streaking Canadiens 3-0.

It was Montreal's first loss since March 8, ending an unbeaten string of 16 games and a winning streak of 11, which included five Stanley Cup games. The Canadiens swept their semifinal series against New York in four games.

Bower kicked out 31 shots and the Leafs poured 43 at Rogatien Vachon, Montreal's 21-year-old rookie goalie.

But Punch Imlach, Toronto's manager-coach, called his club's ability to kill penalties the key to Saturday's victory.

AM&N Sets Record in Kansas Meet

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — Arkansas AM&N's mile relay team and Harding's Jim Crawford set two Arkansas records in the Kansas Relays Saturday.

AM&N dipped off a 3:07.5 in the mile relay, bettering the relay record of 3:09.2 set by Texas Southern in 1963. The best time previously recorded by an Arkansas team was 3:07.8, by AM&N earlier in the season. The relay team was composed of Henry Smothers, Henry Francis, Walter Smith and Elbert Stinson.

Crawford lowered the Arkansas record by one tenth of a second with his 4:04.2 time in the mile run. Crawford ran 4:04.3 in the Texas Relays. He was beaten Saturday by world recorder Jim Ryun (3:54.7) and Richard Romo of Texas (4:02.6).

AM&N also finished second to Texas Southern in both the shorter relays. Texas Southern ran the 440-yard relay in 40.0 and the 880-yard relay in 1:22.6, both meet records. AM&N was clocked in 40.7 and 1:25.3.

Fabulous Matson Sets New Record

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Fabulous Randy Matson had been expecting to hit 71 feet in the shot put for three weeks — he was in just the condition and size he figured necessary to become the first man ever to reach that mark.

While his Texas A&M fellow students roared from the stands at historical Kyle Field Saturday, Matson threw the shot 71 feet, 5 1/2 inches, breaking his world's record by 10 1/4 inches.

He did it on Randy Matson Day — the occasion when his school honored him on his last appearance in track and field at home.

But while he said he had predicted personally he would do 71 feet, he would not guess what his greatest potential would be.

"I may hit 72 feet but every-

King Trying to Have It Both Ways

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King, the Negro civil rights leader, is trying to have it both ways. He says he doesn't mean one thing. He says he means another. The two wind up meaning the same.

King, a hero of the civil rights movement and in the newspapers continually for years, had been in a bit of eclipse in recent months as the crusade for civil rights slowed down.

It not only slowed down but began to fly apart last year after Stokely Carmichael, leader of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, began preaching "black power."

Even ardent civil rights liberals didn't like the connotations of that slogan. And the National Urban League and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People denounced the concept. But King wouldn't join the denunciation.

Then with one big speech earlier this month King got himself back into the limelight but in a way that antagonized more people sympathetic to civil rights. He linked the civil rights protests with the anti-Vietnam war protests.

Some Negro leaders publicly disagreed with these latest tactics of King. Since he needs all the white and Negro support he can get to start the civil rights movement rolling again, it's hard to see how he did it anything but injury.

King had been talking against the war in bits and pieces for a while and then on April 4 made a 40-page speech denouncing the American role in it. He called the United States the "greatest purveyor of violence in he world."

But he never once in the 40 pages mentioned the violence or viciousness of the Viet Cong against their own people in South Vietnam.

In a later speech — one newspaper said it was a clear effort to counter criticism for his omission in the April 4 talk — he did mention the other side but very guardedly.

He said, "I am not absolving Hanoi or the Viet Cong of their responsibilities." This whole performance by King was one-sided.

Tass said the Central Committee, the Presidium and the Council of Ministers "have expressed deep condolences to the family of the deceased."

He and his wife had two children, a 15-year-old son and a 9-year-old daughter.

Mrs. Komarov said earlier her husband had not told her where he was going when he left for his last space flight. She said she was told about the launching by another cosmonaut, Pavel Popovich, who called from the space center.

One in Five of U.S. Breadwinners Works 49 Hours Week or More

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail: Prosperity hasn't brought leisure to all. One out of every five U.S. breadwinners still works 49 or more hours a week. Among those in the upper income level — above $10,000 a year — one of every four claims he works 60 or more hours a week.

Are you a dreamer? You may think you're not, but the chances are that at least 20 per cent of the time you are asleep you are dreaming, whether you remember your dreams or not.

It is difficult for the average person to stay more than a minute under water. But the whale, although he ordinarily doesn't remain submerged more than 10 minutes, can do so for two hours.

Despite the prevalence of doctors, the last U.S. Census Bureau's listing of occupations reported America still has 368 midwives. But in male fields of employment there has been a steady decline in the number of farmers, miners and butlers.

We're a nation on the go. Travel has become a $30-billion-a-year industry in the United States. Our airlines flew 80 billion passenger miles in 1986, an increase of 16.5 per cent within 12 months.

Do we inherit fatness? Most researchers think this is rare. They feel that family patterns of obesity are more often the result of the same bad eating habits being passed down from one generation to another.

Man Who Guided Six Popes Dies

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
ROME (AP) — Enrico Cardinal Dante, who guided six Popes through the intricacies of Vatican ceremonies, died today at the age of 82. Until made a cardinal two years ago by Pope Paul VI, the Italian prelate spent 50 years as papal master of ceremonies. He was referred to as the only man who could tell the Pope what to do.

He had been seriously ill for almost a month. His death reduced the College of Cardinals to 93 members.

Somali Land Names DeGaulist

DJIBOUTI, French Somaliland (AP) — French Somaliland elected a Gaullist deputy to the French National Assembly Sunday without any of the violence and rioting which marred the territory's vote March 19 to stay French.

Members of the Afar tribe make up the majority of the territory's registered voters. They vigorously opposed the Somalis' call for independence.

Only Family Allowed to Visit Hoffa

By LEE LINDER
LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP) — How is James R. Hoffa taking prison life after seven weeks in a federal penitentiary? What is the convict-president of the 1.8 - million - member Teamsters Union doing as No. 33298?

Has he adjusted to the routine behind bars, making the emotional switch from his strong role of boss to one who must take orders? What is his future in jail?

An Associated Press newsman visited the 943-acre penitentiary complex at Lewisburg in central Pennsylvania to get the answers.

Only his family and lawyers can visit Hoffa. Catching a glimpse of this labor titan at prison work is just as elusive.

Warden Jacob J. Parker officially declines comment on Hoffa.

"We don't single out any man," the warden says. "The only special effort we make is to treat every one exactly the same."

"We recognize no big shots." But a source inside the prison had this observation of Hoffa now serving an eight-year jury tampering sentence.

"He looks good and is very cheerful. He seems to be making the best of his prison life. He makes friends very easily with other inmates, seems very popular and well-liked. Other men seek him out and he talks to all who greet him."

"He's a good mixer, jovial."

Known for his quick temper and sharp tongue, Hoffa reportedly has displayed restraint in his first 49 days behind bars.

"He accepts the authority, doesn't question it," says the insider who has seen Hoffa at work. "He does what he is told, and cheerfully. He even does more than is expected, does his best in everything, and asks no favors."

In jail, everyone physically able works a 40-hour week. Hoffa is now in the clothing room—sorting, stacking and issuing clothing to fellow inmates. Each prisoner gets four sets of clothing within a week of arrival.

Hoffa also takes in dirty laundry, and occasionally sews up mattress covers to replace ripped ones.

His prison job is temporarily classified as general maintenance, requiring no special skills. A shortage of classification case workers has delayed a permanent assignment.

Does Hoffa, when he returns to the privacy of his cell at night, still run his union?

Absolutely not, says the warden, emphasizing, "Men can't conduct outside business here."

But one ex-convict—whom Parker admitted knew the ropes—says smart men, like Hoffa, can do almost anything they want through their attorney who has visiting privileges at least three days a week.

Nation on Verge of Rail Strike

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation is on the verge of a nationwide railroad strike because "collective bargaining has fallen flat on its face," say the secretaries of labor and transportation.

The warning from Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz and Secretary of Transportation Alan S. Boyd came Sunday after a special mediation board in the contract dispute between railroad management and six shop-craft unions announced "a complete impasse" in negotiations.

The breakdown came only one day after President Johnson issued "one final appeal" to the parties to settle.

The threatened strike could begin May 3, expiration date of a special congressional provision which had moved back an earlier April 13 strike deadline.

Charles Fahy, chairman of the three-man mediation board, said both sides have rejected the board's settlement recommendation.

The unions want a 6.5 per cent wage increase, management has offered 5 per cent and the board recommended 6 per cent.

The workers now average $2.90 an hour. Earlier the railroads had accepted the board proposal.

Wirtz and Boyd said in a statement, "It is a shame for democracy to be put on trial over so small a disagreement."

Johnson said Saturday "the matter is one of dollars and cents alone, and the real differences between the parties are not great."

But the railroads' chief negotiator, J. E. Wolfe, said there were "matters of principle" involved and that Johnson had been misled.

Fahy said after separate meetings, joint meetings with mediators and a joint session without mediators that "the parties are on call."

Wirtz and Boyd said, "We will keep trying to find the answer to this case but there should be no illusions about the critical seriousness of the prospects."

The unions represent 137,000 workers.

Truckers Vote Against Agreement

WASHINGTON (AP) — In complete returns in voting by Teamsters Union members on a new national contract with the trucking industry were running against acceptance of the agreement today.

Although an official tally was not expected from the union's national headquarters here until later in the day, unofficial totals from some two dozen locals in all parts of the country early this morning had 16,000 voting against the contract and 10,000 in favor of acceptance.

If ratified, the three-year contract would affect 450,000 drivers and other employees of 12,000 trucking firms.

Even as the voting was going on, five associations of truckers in the Chicago area brought a lawsuit against the Teamsters because of scattered strikes which they said made it impossible to continue operations.

The Chicago employers said the union was trying to pressure them into giving a raise higher than that of approximately 70 cents an hour over three years in the proposed national contract.

Teamsters locals in the Chicago area are refusing to be bound by the national contract.

A spot check indicated that most trucking firms in the five associations stopped operations at midnight Sunday night, the announced starting time for the lockout.

In Washington, a spokesman for Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz said the Labor Department would have no comment on the lockout "until we get more details."

There was no immediate indication from the union's top officers, spokesmen for the employers or federal officials as to what the next step would be if the national contract were rejected.

Forestry Subject

MATT MCCAULEY

"Forestry is the number one industry in Arkansas," Matt McCauley, Forestry Instructor at the Red River Vo-Tech School, told the Rotary Club last Friday at the Town and Country.

"We are now growing more timber than we are using," the club was told, "but in the future that won't be true unless we practice the rules of conservation today."

The important uses of trees that were given included aid to our water supply by preventing the erosion of soil. The management of forest lands and evaluation of timber were discussed, and the club was told that there are 54 species of trees in Hempstead County.

The program was arranged by Newt Pentecost, who introduced the guest speaker. In the absence of the president, Vice-President Clyde Fouse presided, and Jim Pruden reported on plans for local Junior Classes to visit Hope businesses and industries May 5 and May 12.

Soviet Intelligence Agents Leave Country After Month's Freedom

NEW YORK (AP) — Mozshechov and Vinogradov, Soviet intelligence agents who blew their cover, then locked themselves out of a car, have gone home.

But not without a spy spoof ending to their month's look around New York and Washington.

The FBI held up departure of their plane for 2½ hours Sunday night while they examined a parcel rushed to the Russians just before takeoff. It contained a spy novel, and maps and papers marked "Top Secret" and "For eyes of President only."

Several phone calls to Washington later, the FBI carted the reading material off and the plane left for Paris. A note stuck in the book, "An Expensive Place to Die" by Len Deighton, said it was a practical joke.

"Best regards," the note said. "Hope you enjoyed your visit. Sorry about that chief, (signed Your American Friend.)"

The two visitors, assumed to be here for a check-up on Soviet Embassy security, were Vasily V. Mozshechov, traveling under the cover name of Kuznetsov, and Nikolai F. Vinogradov.

Both were described by government sources as officers of the KGB, the Soviet Union's Committee on State Security.

Their movements between New York and Washington, including an incident in which they locked themselves out of their own car, were under constant FBI surveillance and received wide publicity after the story was leaked to news media.

Sunday night's incident literally stopped the Russians' Air France jet with its flaps up and its engines blasting.

Just before takeoff a man identifying himself as an FBI agent handed a gift-wrapped parcel to a stewardess, asking if she would give it to Kuznetsov.

Her suspicions were aroused and she turned it over to pilot Michel Vachy who opened the parcel as he waited for runway clearance. When he saw what was inside, Vachy wheeled the jet around and called for the FBI.

There was a question at first whether the documents were part of a publicity stunt for Deighton's book, but a spokesman for its publisher, G. P. Putnam and Sons, said the package "wasn't from our company."

The automobile lockout came this weekend. Commented the New York Times: "There undoubtedly will be no laughter when the two officials return home. Not only were they caught locking themselves out of their car, but more important they committed the cardinal sin for spies of having blown their cover."

NEW YORK (AP) — Svetlana Stalina's forthcoming memoirs will describe a tumultuous family life, her own sense of not belonging and the paranoid reactions of her father — Soviet dictator Joseph Stalin.

Newsweek magazine, reporting in its current issue, said the book begins in Moscow in 1963 and takes the reader backward to the time of her father's death in 1953.

It details how Stalin reacted in paranoid fashion to his wife's suicide, regarding it as part of a plot against him, and how Svetlana learned of the suicide at 16 after believing for nine years the death was natural. She describes this discovery as a traumatic one, the magazine said.

The vivacious, 42-year-old woman remained in seclusion, spending Sunday at the estate of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Johnson in Locust Valley, Long Island.

Svetlana arrived from Switzerland Friday.

Friends described her as eager to meet with newsmen at a conference scheduled for Wednesday.

Svetlana's book, to be published in October by Harper & Row, sheds light, Newsweek said, on "her own spiritual turmoil, the tragic sense of not belonging that seems to have beset her as well as her two brothers, Jacob who died a Nazi captive, in World War II and Vasily, an alcoholic who died mysteriously, perhaps suicidally, in 1962."

The magazine quotes George F. Kennan, former U.S. ambassador to Moscow, in relating incidents in the book, Kennan aided Svetlana in reaching the United States after she first sought asylum here two months ago.

Kennan said the memoirs are basically nonpolitical and praised their writing. "She has an exceptionally high value as a human being," he said.

Tornadoes Hit State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Two tornadoes were reported in Arkansas Sunday, one six miles northwest of Biscoe in Prairie County and another near Des Arc.

There were no reports of injuries and the damage was reported to be negligible. One house was reported knocked down near Biscoe where power lines were felled and trees uprooted.

Marble size hail fell in some parts of the state Sunday, a day in which 41 of the state's 75 counties were placed under tornado watch bullets and other areas under severe thunderstorm watches.

The all clear statements for four tornado watches issued Sunday were lifted well before the reported expiration in the first bulletins.

Elsewhere in the ground war, U.S. Marine and Army infantrymen clashed repeatedly with scattered enemy forces in South Vietnam's threatened northern provinces. The U.S. command reported a total of 91 enemy dead.

In the Communist C Zone north of Saigon, helicopter-borne troops fanned out through the bomb-scarred, defoliated countryside behind thick smoke screens laid by other helicopters.

As the advancing ground troops uncovered supply caches and stubborn guerrillas, heavy tanks of three armored squadrons crashed wide lanes in the jungle and mowed down clearings for future helicopter assaults.

The operation, named Manhattan, put about four brigades of American troops and a regiment of Vietnamese into the field, plus supporting armor, artillery and aviation battalions.

The American units were deployed on both sides of the Saigon River about 30 miles northwest of Saigon, with troops from the 25th Division along the southern sector and 1st Infantry Division troops on the north.

Three Vietnamese battalions were moving overland northwest from Ben Cat through the Ben Suc region cleared in January during Operation Cedar Falls.

Contact was reported light, though some U.S. tanks blew up on land mines, snapper fire was encountered and a Vietnamese unit engaged a small enemy force outside Ben Cat.

The object of the large move is to sweep through supply areas reportedly restocked by logistics companies of the Viet Cong 9th Division that was hit badly during the recent Operation Junction City deeper in War Zone C.

The new escalation in the air war came after a week of unusually heavy MIG activity in the area.

"I foresee, in the months ahead, some of the bitterest fighting of the war."

"But I have confidence in our battlefield capability. And I am confident of the support we and our allies will continue to receive from our President and from the Congress."

Sens. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., and Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., both called at the AP meeting for more combat troops in Vietnam from other Asian nations.

But while Byrd, a strong supporter of President Johnson's Vietnam policies, asked for increased bombing of the North, Percy, a critic of present policies, said previous escalation hardened the enemy's will to resist, increased casualties and alienated world opinion.

It was evident that Westmoreland is concerned that antiwar protests have given the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong enemy "hope that he can win politically which which he cannot accomplish militarily."

Associates said this was the main point Westmoreland sought to get across to the American people through his speech to the AP meeting.

Westmoreland put it this way: "I am mindful that the military war in South Vietnam is, from the enemy's point of view, only part of a protracted and carefully coordinated attack, waged in the international arena."

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — W. D. (Bill) Lord of Ruleville, Miss., was elected executive secretary of the Arkansas Association of Citizens Council in an executive session here Saturday.

Walter Carruth of Helena was elected state secretary.

Lord said the council will meet each month in executive session. He is field director of Citizens Councils in Arkansas and north Mississippi.

He said Saturday's meeting stressed the formulation of new organizations in the state and strengthening of existing councils.

First Raid on Enemy Airfields

By EDWIN Q. WHITE
SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Air Force and Navy planes made their first attack of the Vietnam war today on MIG jet airfields in North Vietnam, while some 20,000 U.S. and South Vietnamese troops made a massive assault on three Communist jungle redoubts in War Zone C.

A U.S. command spokesman said U.S. Air Force F4C Phantoms hit one North Vietnamese airfield at Hoa Lac, 19 miles west of Hanoi, while Navy A4s and A6s hit a second jet field at Kep, 37 miles northeast of Hanoi.

Pilots reported both missions were successful, U.S. headquarters said, but there was no report of the damage.

The presidential election campaigns are not only a time for inflated speeches. They also heard a return of inflated crowd estimating — or deflated estimating, depending upon which party you listen to. Now a new development may throw some honesty into the latter preoccupation of politicians.

Herbert Jacobs, a lecturer in journalism at the University of California, has devised what he calls "Jacobs' crowd formula."

The formula calls for walking off the length and width of a gathering, then adding the two figures. If the crowd is densely packed, this is multiplied by 10; if loosely assembled, by seven. The average person occupies from six to eight square feet in most crowds, he says. For sit-ins, the figure is 6.7 square feet.

Jacobs reportedly perfected his formula by studying a student strike rally at the university, which various observers estimated as containing from 5,000 to 10,000 participants. Jacobs actually counted heads in an enlarged photo and came up with 2,804. — Gastonia (N. C.) Gazette.

Original Uncle Sam
Do you know the origin of "Uncle Sam"? How the gentleman in the frock coat, striped trousers, goatee and star-spangled top hat became this nation's symbol?

The original Uncle Sam came from the War of 1812. And he was a real man, Samuel Wilson of Troy, N.Y., a prosperous meat-packer who sold and inspected meat for the Army. Each shipment of salted meat had the barrels stamped "U.S." and so became known as "Uncle Sam's meat."

Later this gradually spread to other federal property and activities until "Uncle Sam" became generally accepted. — Shreveport (La.) Journal

Says Powell Will Have to Return Soon

By JACK MILLER

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Negro congressman said today that unless Adam Clayton Powell returns to Washington soon to work in his own behalf, he has little chance of being seated in the House — regardless of what the courts decide.

"His best friends are urging that he return immediately and initiate some action," said Rep. John Conyers Jr., D-Mich., in a telephone interview from his home in Detroit.

Conyers, a member of the select House committee that found Powell guilty of "gross misconduct," said a majority of the House members still favor the March 1 action by which he was excluded.

"And the positions are hardening," he said.

The key vote leading to exclusion of the preacher-politician was 222 to 202. And, said Conyers, "unless he is present and contacting his friends and making it completely clear that he wants the seat and is willing to contact the members, there is no indication that there will be a change in votes."

The chairman of the select committee, Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., said Sunday "the odds are against him (Powell) still."

Celler said it "would make a great deal of difference" if Powell mingled with his former colleagues and displayed "some degree of humility . . . some degree of humbleness" instead of his usual "swagger."

Powell, who has been relaxing on the Bahamian island of Bimini since his exclusion, reportedly has decided to postpone his return pending court action.

A U.S. District Court judge dismissed the suit by which Powell attempted to force the House to seat him. The case now is before a federal appeals court, which is scheduled to hear arguments Thursday.

Conyers said, however, that the way the feeling of House members is developing, "they might even tell the Supreme Court to go to hell" if the high court ruled Powell had to be seated.

Sources close to Powell said even the Harlem Democrat's lawyers are becoming impatient

China Symbol of Hate in Indonesia

By TONY ESCODA

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) —

Communist China, once Indonesia's great friend and ally, has become a symbol of hate here, and the million or so Chinese aliens in this country are feeling the effects.

An officially sponsored anti-Peking line has combined with traditional anti-Chinese sentiments among Indonesia's Moslems people to create an atmosphere of tension for the Chinese. This situation developed following the 1965 coup d'etat attempt organized by the pro-Peking Indonesian Communist party, PKI, Communist China was accused of having a hand in it.

The coup was smashed by army forces led by Gen. Suharto, now acting president. The collapse of the Red movement triggered a massive anti-Communist campaign throughout Indonesia in which hundreds of thousands were slain. The PKI was destroyed and its remnants were driven underground.

Since then, Chinese aliens, most of whom owe their allegiance to Peking, have become virtually equated with Communists.

Stern regulations limit the activities of Chinese and subject them to special taxation. They have been banned from trading, their chief livelihood, in such outlying areas as Sumatra. In Jakarta they have been denied permanent residence. Boycott of Chinese goods is being fostered and Chinese-owned shops are liable to closure by the military.

Thomas Gause, regional director of the SBA, said 650 homes in Lake, Boone and Cook counties were destroyed by the tornadoes, 450 received major damage, and 500 were damaged lightly.

Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., toured the stricken areas Sunday. "The tragedy of broken families is beyond description," he said, "but the strength of spirit under adversity was inspiring to behold."

Tornadoes Lash Areas of Nation

CHICAGO (AP) — Heavy, wet snowflakes fell amid the debris Sunday as residents of tornado-ravaged northern Illinois communities cleared the rubble, patched their homes and prepared to bury their dead.

The snowstorm, heaviest on record so late in the spring in Chicago, hampered cleanup operations in Oak Lawn, Belvidere and Lake Zurich. These areas were hardest hit by twisters that rampaged across the top of the state and into Michigan Friday, killing 53, injuring hundreds and causing damage estimated as high as $50 million.

Volunteer workers and residents of the stricken areas interrupted their work Sunday to file into nearby churches.

"The hand of God has touched this village and this parish," Msgr. William McNichols of St. Gerald's Roman Catholic church, Oak Lawn, said in a sermon. "We must pray for those who were killed and injured and work together to build what was lost."

One hundred twenty-seven persons injured in the tornadoes remained in hospitals in the Belvidere area and more than 100 in Oak Lawn hospitals.

Tons of food and clothing have been donated to the Red Cross and Salvation Army for distribution to disaster victims.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The 6,000 police officers in Philadelphia say if you have a complaint about the force, tell it to police officials, not some civilian board.

The city, backed by civic and religious groups, argues that there is a definite need for an appeals board that will listen to citizen gripes about police, and recommend disciplinary action, if necessary.

The Fraternal Order of Police last month succeeded in getting the city's Police Advisory Board — created in 1958 as the first in the nation — declared illegal and void.

Judge Leo Weinrott, making the ruling in Common Pleas Court, said the board was an "unquestionable menace to law enforcement and hence to the public welfare." The city is appealing.

Police in the nation's fourth-largest city contended in their successful suit that the board "is unnecessary, illegal, serves no purpose except harassment of police officers and lowers their morale."

Two Call for More Troops to Vietnam

NEW YORK (AP) — Sens. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., and Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., joined today in calling on Asian countries to send more combat troops to Vietnam, but differed sharply on virtually every other aspect of the war.

Byrd, a strong supporter of President Johnson's Vietnam policies, called for increased bombing of the North, Percy, considered an opponent of present policies, claimed previous escalation hardened the enemy's will to resist, increased casualties and alienated world opinion.

The comments by the two newly elected senators were prepared for a panel discussion at the annual Associated Press meeting at the Waldorf-Astoria.

Following on the schedule was an address by Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U.S. commander in Vietnam.

Also taking part in the discussion were Hugh A. Mulligan, Associated Press correspondent who won this year's Overseas Press Club award for Vietnam reporting, and moderator Benjamin M. McKelway of the Washington Star, a director and former president of The Associated Press.

Besides sending in more troops, Percy suggested that Asian countries take the initiative to bring about peace. President Ferdinand Marcos of the Philippines already has called for an all-Asian conference and Percy noted his plan was endorsed two weeks ago by Thanat Khoman, foreign minister of Thailand.

"The time may be right for them to reiterate their invitations to other Asian nations—Communist, non-Communist and neutral—to convene an all-Asian peace conference," he said.

Presumably the list of those invited would include Communist China.

Percy warned against too much expectation and said hopes should be limited to assurance that "the South Vietnamese may determine their own future, free of North Vietnamese coercion." He repeated his belief that the Viet Cong must participate in South Vietnamese political life "competing peacefully at the polls and shunning violence."

Byrd said the United States should try to get help from its other allies, but particularly from the Asians.

He told the editors that he had long questioned the wisdom of getting involved in a ground war in Vietnam, but "now that we are, we must do everything possible to bring the war to an honorable conclusion."

So long as the fighting continues, he went on, "I feel it important that several steps be taken by our government."

He listed these as authority for military commanders on the scene to increase bombing to cut enemy supply lines and hit military targets in the North; refusal to agree to any more truces such as the six-day one in February and "concentrate on getting support in the way of combat troops from other Asian nations."

"I feel the logical course for the United States to follow," he said, "is to permit our military leaders to conduct the war in such a way as to bring it to the earliest possible conclusion."

Byrd, in his prepared remarks, did not mention peace negotiations.
